SECTION 1 - OVERVIEW

ABOUT THE UNIVERSITY

The NMSU Grants campus is the home of over 800 students (including Distance Education and Dual Credit students), faculty, and staff. NMSU at Grants was established as a branch campus of New Mexico State University in 1968 through the cooperative efforts of New Mexico State University and Grants Municipal Schools. A new building, Lucy Ma Belle Hall, became ready for classroom occupancy for the Spring 2019 term.

PUBLIC SAFETY AGENCIES AT NMSU GRANTS

NMSU Grants – our campus does not have a security force and, therefore, relies on the Grants Police Department for public safety issues. Any activities that you observe that make you feel uncomfortable or make you question the appropriateness of the activity should be reported to the Grants Police Department. In addition to reporting the situation to the Police Department, you should notify an administrator of the incident. The NMSU Police Department (Las Cruces) has enforcement authority on our campus and are always willing to assist as needed.

SAFETY – EVERYONE’S BUSINESS

A campus community relies on a peaceful, safe, and secure environment. Preserving this environment is a responsibility everyone on campus shares. Members of the community are expected to be aware of policies and procedures of the university and to promptly report any crime or suspicious activity. Everyone needs to also be conscious of personal safety. While the Grants Police Department and other campus safety entities work to keep the campus safe, they cannot do so when people intentionally choose to engage in risky activity.

Everyone is encouraged to be aware of their surroundings and avoid suspicious or dangerous situations whenever possible. Campus community members are also encouraged to follow common safety practices that include locking doors and windows, using seatbelts, and avoiding the over-consumption of alcohol. Finally, campus community members are encouraged to watch for and report situations where a dangerous condition exists. This includes bystander reports if another person appears to be in danger and is unable to call for help themselves.

SECURITY OF BUILDINGS AND FACILITIES

The NMSU Grants campus is relatively safe compared to other universities and cities its size. However, that does not mean it is crime free. Burglary and thefts likely occur more frequently than other crimes on campus and are suspected of going unreported. Students and employees are encouraged to always lock up valuables and not leave them unattended, as this contributes to a large portion of the thefts.

The majority of academic facilities are opened and closed by Facilities and Services Custodial staff. This applies to securing exterior doors of academic and non-academic buildings Monday through Friday. Building hours are typically from 7am to 6pm, while some facilities are open later due to classes. With minor exceptions, all facilities are secured by 10 pm daily. Facilities open on weekends are based on scheduled classes or events, and are typically secured by 6pm. Centrally scheduled classrooms are opened before 8am with the end of the day user securing the room. All other departmental rooms are opened and secured by their respective departments. Offices and laboratories are controlled by the facility user.

SECTION 2 – EMERGENCIES AND INCIDENTS

EMERGENCY ALERTS, TIMELY WARNINGS, AND ADVISORIES

When there are major incidents or emergencies that affect a large number of people and that present an immediate threat to health or safety, NMSU will issue advisories, alerts, or warnings as appropriate and as long as doing so will not impede the public safety response or further endanger lives. An emergency alert is used when there is immediate danger to either a segment of, or the entire, university campus. Examples include both manmade and natural disasters, including: structure fires, hazardous materials spills, violent crimes in progress, tornados, or similar emergency situations. An emergency alert is sent at the direction of the incident commander (usually police or fire) when an emergency situation that places people in danger has been confirmed, and will generally contain the following information:

WHAT: This is a brief description of what is taking place. For example, it may indicate there is a tornado warning, a fire, a bomb threat, or a person shooting. If the message is not an emergency (e.g., a test message), it will be indicated here.

WHERE: This provides information about where the emergency is taking place. It will be as specific as the particular situation allows, but should always include which campus(es) is being affected.

ACTION: This is where recipients will find specific guidance on what to do as a result of the emergency (e.g., be on the lookout, shelter in place, evacuate, etc.). In order to make the system work as fast as possible, these messages are necessarily kept very brief, and additional information will usually be made available on the NMSU website homepage. (NOTE: On-scene direction from public safety personnel, media releases, update e-mails, and other forms of communication may also be used as appropriate. Follow the most current and specific guidance provided.)

MORE INFO: This section will explain where to go to get more detailed information regarding the emergency. This will usually include the university's website (www.nmsu.edu), but depending on the nature of the incident, other sources may be also be provided.

Emergency alerts are sent using the NMSU Emergency Notification System (ENS). Participation in the ENS is mandatory for all students and employees at NMSU, with the official NMSU e-mail being the default notification. In order to receive text messages and phone calls, the student or employee must register the appropriate contact information at <https://emergency.nmsu.edu>.

A timely warning is used when there is a serious crime or an ongoing situation or crime trend that may pose a danger to people or property, but is not immediately dangerous. These are limited to the Clery-reportable crimes, and are usually sent out via official NMSU e-mail. Some may also be posted on the NMSU Police Department social media pages (e.g., <https://facebook.com/nmsupolice>) or shared with local news media.

An advisory may be issued for crime or traffic situations that do not involve an immediate danger or are not Clery-reportable crimes and may be sent out via official NMSU e-mail. These are usually sent in order to make the university community aware of a situation so it can be avoided. Planned road closures, heavy traffic, and ongoing crimes involving theft are examples of common advisories.

EMERGENCY PLANS, TESTS, AND EVACUATIONS

NMSU has a multi-disciplinary committee called the Emergency Planning Committee that is responsible for developing the All Hazards Emergency Operations Plan. This plan guides the institutional response to emergencies, including the interaction between the public safety response (crisis management) and administrative response (consequence management).

Various aspects of this plan are tested each year, and the plan is continually reviewed and updated as necessary. This ranges from function tests, such as the scheduled activation of the Emergency Notification System each semester, to tabletop exercises, drills, functional exercises, and full-scale exercises. As noted below and in the Annual Fire Safety Report, fire evacuation drills (an example of a functional drill) of individual buildings/facilities are conducted near the beginning of each year for the residence facilities and for select academic buildings. The university also conducts at least one tabletop, functional, or full-scale exercise each year for key administrators who might be involved in a particular disaster/emergency response. Below are the details related to some of the tests and exercises recently conducted:

While many institutions have plans for evacuation of their campuses, NMSU Grants with the local law enforcement in Cibola County and the Cibola County Office of Emergency Management work to have an integrated evacuation plan. Current plans for a campus-wide evacuation include use of the NMSU Emergency Notification System and coordination with the regional Office of Emergency Management. Per the regional plan, law enforcement personnel will be responsible for carrying out the actual evacuation, but will rely heavily on other resources for coordination, communication, transportation, sheltering, and related assistance.

More information is also available at <https://emergencyplanning.nmsu.edu/>. The final decision on whether to issue one of the above notices, and the information contained therein, rests with the NMSU Chief of Police. The Chief (or his designee) may make the decision not to issue a notice if the situation is deemed not to warrant one, or if doing so might hamper the ability of public safety personnel to respond to and contain the incident.

The NMSU Emergency Dispatch Center works with the Mesilla Valley Regional Dispatch Authority to monitor significant off-campus incidents. The Police Department has also asked outside law enforcement agencies to notify NMSU authorities of incidents that may warrant warnings to the NMSU community. However, this is not a guarantee these outside agencies will do so in every incident, nor in a timely manner. As a result, anyone believing an alert or warning is warranted for something taking place off campus should contact the NMSU Police Department.

EMERGENCY ACTIONS

If you are involved in a dangerous or life-threatening emergency, take the following steps immediately:

- Get to a safe place as quickly as possible. Generally, the further you can get away from the scene, the safer you will likely be. If you cannot escape the danger, look for ways to shelter yourself from the danger.
- Report the emergency by calling 911. Say, “This is an EMERGENCY”, give your LOCATION, and briefly tell WHAT is happening.
- Notify others of the danger so they can also stay away.
- Monitor the situation to see if it gets worse or if circumstances (like wind direction) change. Notify the emergency services dispatcher (911 operators) of the changes.

All students and employees are also encouraged to prepare in advance for emergencies, whether from natural disasters (such as floods, tornados, earthquakes, extreme heat, lightning, disease outbreak, etc.) or manmade incidents (including traffic crashes, hazardous chemical releases, downed electrical lines, criminal activity, terrorism, arson, etc.). Additional information is available through Environmental Health and Safety’s website at <https://safety.nmsu.edu>. Under the “Emergency Information” tab on the top is a wealth of information, including the NMSU emergency numbers, the All Hazards Emergency Operations Plan, hazardous spill procedures, and assistance in developing emergency plans. Safety news and initiatives are in recent news posted on the safety home page.

Anytime a person enters a building, they should also look to see what other avenues of emergency escape exist, whether through additional doors, designated fire exits, or even windows. Students and employees should also know where the designated escape routes and exits are in those buildings they work in, as well as any potential specific challenges (such as stairs might present for a person in a wheelchair).

HOUSING AND RESIDENTIAL FACILITIES

NMSU Grants does not own nor operate any housing for students at NMSU Grants. For this reason, the following items are not contained in this report:

- Missing person policy for residential students
- Designation of a contact person for missing residential students
- Safety measures for residential facilities
- Statistics of crimes taking place inside residential facilities
- Statistics for arrests and referrals taking place inside residential facilities
- Annual Fire Safety report for student residential facilities

FIRE PROTECTION EQUIPMENT AND SYSTEMS

NMSU Grants contracts with local experts for the annual inspection and testing of fire evacuation equipment, including automatic fire detection systems, fire extinguishers and fire sprinkler systems.

NMSU Grants is a non-residential campus. NMSU Grants has had no incidences of building fires.

MISSING PERSON REPORTS

There is no residential housing at NMSU Grants, so the likelihood of a missing person report being filed is greatly reduced. However, if you have reason to believe a person may be missing from NMSU Grants, you should immediately call the Grants Police Department. You do not need to wait 24 hours before calling. You may also call the NMSU Police Department, who will then work with the Grants Police Department and other law enforcement agencies as necessary.

NMSU's attempts to locate the person will include contacting the Grants Police Department, notifying the missing person's designated contact(s), notifying parents or guardians if the missing person is less than 18 years of age, contacting known family members and friends, and posting of bulletins and news releases. In addition, the NMSU Police Department will notify appropriate university officials that a person is missing. The university will also notify other law enforcement if a student has been missing within 24 hours of the report.

When students enroll at NMSU Grants, they are asked to provide Emergency Contact Information, and this confidential information is used by the Police Department in contacting family and/or friends. All students are strongly encouraged to designate and provide the names and contact information of the people they would like contacted under these circumstances. This may be done at the website <http://emergency.nmsu.edu>. For any student who is a minor (under the age of 18) and has not been emancipated by a court, police officials are required to notify his/her parent(s) or guardian(s), in addition to any emergency contacts listed by the student.

Any NMSU employee who, through the course of their employment, is informed that a person is missing from campus is required to immediately notify the NMSU Police Department. If there is information an abduction has just taken place, the employee should call 911. Otherwise, the person should call the NMSU Police at (575) 646-3311 and provide the information to the emergency services dispatcher. A police officer will then work with the Grants Police Department to immediately initiate an investigation.

IF YOU ARE THE VICTIM OF A CRIME

If you are the victim of a crime, whether while on campus or off campus, or experience a fire or medical emergency, you are encouraged to report it immediately by calling 911. For non-emergencies taking place on campus, call (505-287-4404 Dispatch). When you call, give your name, the location you are calling from, a brief description of what occurred, and whether there is still a danger present (e.g., the person who committed the crime is still present). Prompt reporting and specific information will increase the chances of solving your case. A police officer will be dispatched to meet with you and obtain all of the necessary information. Here are some guidelines regarding preserving evidence while you wait for an officer:

- If evidence from the crime is still intact, try not to move or destroy it. This includes avoiding trying to clean up the area, moving or throwing away items, or wiping down surfaces.
- If there are text messages, e-mails, voice mails, or other electronic evidence, preserve the original (if possible) or make a copy (if the original might be deleted, such as with Snapchat and similar programs) and provide this evidence to the police officer who responds;
- If you are being harassed or stalked, keep a log of any contact or sightings you have of the suspect, to include any third-party contacts where the suspect uses someone else to contact you or monitor your activities;
- If you are the victim of a sexual assault, avoid showering, changing clothes, or grooming, as these can destroy evidence. Protect any bedding or towels, clothes you were wearing, or other items where evidence may have been left. If possible, avoid the use of the bathroom, and consider getting a SANE Exam (described below) as soon as possible to identify and collect evidence that may be on your body. The first few hours are the most critical, but useful evidence can still be obtained 24 hours or more after some sexual assaults.
- If you chose to not report the crime immediately to police, you are still encouraged to write down as much as you can remember (when you are able) so that if you decide to report at a later time, you will have something to remind you of critical details. Try to include as many details about what happened, as well as everything you can remember about the suspect. Include things you saw, heard, and even smelled, tasted, or felt. Also try to write down things like other people who were around and might be witnesses, locations where different things happened, and any items that you have saved (such as text messages, e-mails, photos, phone messages, etc.) that might be relevant.

Even if you do not wish to file a police report right away, you may wish to preserve evidence using the above steps in case you later decide to contact police. This can help protect evidence that might assist later in the identification and/or prosecution of the person responsible for the crime. This can also preserve evidence you might want to use during an administrative hearing or civil lawsuit, should you choose either of those options.

Many students worry about reporting crimes to the police because they do not want to testify in a trial. Victims are nevertheless encouraged to at least contact the Grants Police Department or the NMSU Police Department so they can be made aware of other services (counseling services, medical treatment, etc.) that might lessen the trauma of the incident. If the victim does not wish to pursue criminal charges, their wishes will be respected. Some of the most frequently accessed services include:

- SANE Exam: Grants, NM does not have a SANE Unit at our local hospital, however you are urged to seek care at the nearest medical facility or ER. Albuquerque, NM has a SANE Unit. Call 505-847-SANE (7263) to schedule a medical or forensic exam. In addition, evidence of sexual assault can be identified and collected during this exam. These exams are confidential, and are conducted by specially trained medical practitioners. You also have a right to have someone of your choosing with you during these exams. If you would like, a victim services advocate can accompany you and help with any questions you might have.
- Counseling: There are several behavioral health providers in Cibola County. You may call the Vice President of Student Services at 505-287-6628 for assistance with local referrals. Resources are available online at: <https://equity.nmsu.edu/resources/> Download the brochure and refer to the Cibola County Off Campus Resource guide.
- Medical: Cibola General Hospital has a 24-hour emergency department. They are located at 1016 E. Roosevelt in Grants, NM. 505-287-4446.
- Protection Orders: While certain offices at the university can issue a “no contact” order against students or employees, such orders only apply on campus, and may only be helpful if the perpetrator of the crime is a student or employee. The NMSU Police Department’s Victim Services staff can assist victims of violence in obtaining temporary and permanent restraining orders from the state courts that will apply no matter where you might be, and no matter who the offender is. Victim services units with other police departments offer similar assistance.
- Victim Services: This is a unit that operates out of the NMSU Police Department, and is staffed with a coordinator and advocates who can assist with connecting to any of the above resources, making academic or housing changes, getting protective orders through the courts, obtaining emergency food and shelter, applying for special VISA authorizations for citizens of other countries, etc. As mentioned above, victims do not need to file a police report in order to receive assistance from the Victim Services unit.

Students who are victims of crimes may also pursue recourse through either the Office of Institutional Equity. While these are not a substitute for the criminal justice system, they afford students the opportunity to have their side heard in a less formal environment. If an accused student is found to have violated the Student Code of Conduct by engaging in forcible or non-forcible sex offenses or other violations, he or she may be subject to disciplinary action. The level of disciplinary action administered depends on the specific circumstances of the case, but can range from warnings and attendance at mandatory programs up to and including expulsion from NMSU. Both the victim and accused are afforded the same opportunities within the student judicial process, including the ability to have others present during disciplinary proceedings, and both shall be informed of the outcome of any campus disciplinary proceedings alleging sexual assault. Students interested in this course of action may call the Office of Institutional Equity at 575-646-3635, the office responsible for upholding the Student Code of Conduct. At NMSU Grants, call the Vice President for Student Services office at 505-287-6628. As always, students may also contact the Police Department for assistance and guidance.

Any NMSU officials who becomes aware that a person has been the victim of a sexual assault or other crime on the NMSU campus is required to assist the person in notifying the police department, or if the victim is unable to do so (e.g., due to physical or mental incapacitation). In no case shall any university official discourage reporting of a crime to police when the victim wants to file a report.

In addition to police reports, victims of crimes identified under the Violence Against Women Act (VAWA), may file a complaint with the NMSU Title IX Coordinator in the Office of Institutional Equity (OIE). These crimes include sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking.

HAZING, BULLYING, HARASSMENT AND OTHER MISCONDUCT

NMSU is committed to promoting an educational and work environment that is safe, positive and without intimidation or injury to students, faculty, staff, and guests.

It is New Mexico State University's policy that hazing, bullying, harassment and other forms of hostile misconduct, that are not speech or conduct otherwise protected by the First Amendment, are strictly prohibited. These types of behavior or actions have no place within a community of scholars and prevention of such behavior is the responsibility of every member of the university community. The University will not tolerate hazing, bullying, harassment, and other forms of hostile misconduct directed at or committed by its faculty, staff or students, affiliates, volunteers, or other persons conducting business with or visiting the University. A non-exhaustive list describing conduct that is prohibited regardless of location, on or off-campus, online or remote including via media or electronic means can be found under NMSU ARP 3.80.

The prevention of hazing, bullying, harassment, or other hostile misconduct is the responsibility of every member of the University community. Reports received by a university community member must be promptly forwarded to the offices as indicated below. Each organization, association, athletic team, department, unit, division, as well as each individual student, employee, affiliate, or guest must report incidents believed to be associated with hazing, bullying, or other hostile misconduct and cooperate with any investigation, as requested by the involved NMSU office(s). Complaints must be made as follows:

Criminal misconduct should always be reported to the NMSU Police Department and other relevant law enforcement agencies, in addition to the appropriate administrative unit. Any violation involving a crime, an emergency, or an imminent threat to the health or safety of any person, should be reported immediately by dialing 9-1-1. Non-emergency or non-imminent criminal threat: Contact the University Police by dialing 575-646-3311 or the Grants Police Department at 505-287-4404.

Student or student organization behavior (includes athletic teams, sororities, fraternities, and other) in violation of this policy must be reported to the Vice President of Student Services 505-287-6685, by email at dos@nmsu.edu or by completing the Campus Community Incident Report. Reports made to a university employee must be promptly forwarded to the Dean of Students office.

Non-discriminatory acts of hazing, bullying, harassment or other hostile misconduct or retaliation by or against employees, affiliates and guests report to Human resource services Office of People Relations by phone at 575-646-2449, email at opr@nmsu.edu

Individuals may report any violation of policy in good faith through the Ethics Point system.

SEXUAL ASSAULT, HARASSMENT, AND STALKING

The issue of sexual assault and other sexual misconduct is at the forefront of universities nationwide. NMSU specifically prohibits sexual misconduct and will assist victims in seeking counseling (available through the Vice President for Student Services Office at NMSU Grants, or the Aggie Health and Wellness Center or several off-campus organizations), obtaining medical treatment (available through the Campus Health Center and local hospitals), changing room assignments, making academic changes, and in any other way possible, including criminal prosecution through the District Attorney's Office (if the victim so desires). Students, faculty and staff, and visitors are reminded that they can contact the NMSU Police Department for assistance at any time, and do not have to file an official police report in order to be helped. If a report is filed with the NMSU Police Department, it will be fully investigated with the findings being referred to the District Attorney's Office for prosecutorial decisions. (NOTE: The state statutes related to sexual assault, harassment, stalking, and other crimes can be found in Section 4 of this publication.)

NMSU prohibits sexual misconduct by students and employees. This includes forced sexual contact (including harmful, insulting, or non-consensual physical contact of a sexual nature with another person, such as touching, fondling, exposure, disrobing, etc.) and forced sexual penetration (including intercourse, sodomy, oral copulation, or penetration with any object by the use of force, threats, coercion, or by taking advantage of a victim's helplessness). Also prohibited is any sexual harassment, such as requiring a person to engage in sexual conduct or activities in exchange for a grade, payment, or similar benefits.

NMSU requires all employees to complete training on an annual basis regarding sexual misconduct, and all incoming students must complete similar training prior to being allowed to enroll for classes. Additional information and training programs beyond this initial training are available through the Office of Institutional Equity, the Dean of Students, the WAVE Program, the Aggie Health and Wellness Center, the Campus Health Center, and the NMSU Police Department. Contact information for each of these can be found near the end of this publication.

NMSU investigates reported sexual misconduct (including dating violence, domestic violence, sexual assault, and stalking) through the Office of Institutional Equity/Title IX Coordinator (the administrative/disciplinary investigation), as well as through the appropriate law enforcement agencies (the criminal investigation). During the NMSU disciplinary investigations, a preponderance of the evidence standard is used. During disciplinary proceedings, both the victim and the accused have the right to have another person present, including the opportunity to be accompanied to any related meeting or proceeding by an advisor of the person's choice. The findings of Title IX disciplinary investigations will be sent to the Provost's Office to determine if violations have taken place, and if so, then referred to Student Judicial Services (for students) or Human Resources (for employees) for appropriate action to be taken based on the circumstances of the individual incident. For students, this can result in any of the following sanctions based on the severity of the offense: expulsion from university housing; mandatory completion of an education program; completion of mandatory counseling; suspension; expulsion; and/or ban from the university. For employees, the possible sanctions are: documented counseling (for minor offenses); written reprimand (for minor offenses); suspension without pay; termination; and/or ban from the university.

More information regarding student discipline hearings can be found at: <https://arp.nmsu.edu/5-20/>

Sexual misconduct often overlaps with crimes of sexual assault, sexual harassment, stalking, and domestic violence. As a result, sexual misconduct cases may be handled both by NMSU for policy violations, as well as by law enforcement for criminal violations. Each system has its own processes and standards. In addition, there are differences between federal definitions used to report violations of university policies, and state statutes used to prosecute offenders in the criminal justice system.

In an effort to reduce the risk of sexual misconduct as well as the crimes of rape, sexual assault, sexual harassment, stalking, dating violence and domestic violence occurring among its students, the University utilizes a range of campaigns, strategies and initiatives to provide awareness, educational, risk reduction and prevention programming. Educational programs are offered to raise awareness for all incoming students and employees, and are conducted during new student and new employee orientation and throughout an incoming student's first semester. These programs and others offered throughout the year include strong messages regarding not just awareness, but also primary prevention (including normative messaging, environmental management and bystander intervention), and discuss institutional policies on sexual misconduct as well as the State of New Mexico definitions of domestic violence, sexual assault, stalking and consent in reference to sexual activity. Bystander engagement is encouraged through safe and positive intervention techniques and by empowering third-party intervention and prevention such as calling for help, identifying allies, and/or creating distractions.

Programs also offer information on risk reduction that strives to empower victims, teaches them how to recognize warning signals and how to avoid potential attacks, and to do so without victim-blaming approaches. Throughout the year, ongoing awareness and prevention campaigns are directed to students and employees, including faculty.

MEASURES TAKEN BY NMSU

In the event that sexual misconduct, gender-based violence or the crimes of sexual assault, stalking, dating violence or domestic violence occur, the University takes the matter very seriously. The Grants Police Department investigates all crimes reported to have taken place on the NMSU Grants campus, including crimes involving these categories. However, students can also file (or file in lieu of a criminal report) an administrative report/complaint with the university for incidents involving dating violence, domestic violence, sexual assault, or stalking by contacting the Title IX Coordinator in the Office of Institutional Equity at (575) 646-3635. When a report comes in regarding dating violence, domestic violence, sexual assault or stalking, it is reviewed to determine if the incident recorded is or could be a violation of Title IX. If a violation of Title IX is possible, the case is assigned to a Deputy Title IX Coordinator to conduct a full investigation. At the conclusion of the investigation, a Finding of Facts is written and submitted to the Office of the Provost to determine if a violation of NMSU Rule 3.25 Equal Opportunity and Prohibition of Unlawful Discrimination occurred.

If it is determined that a violation occurred and the respondent is a student, the Finding of Facts is sent to the Office of the Dean of Students to conduct a hearing. Both the accuser and accused are allowed to have someone present with them at any meeting, investigation, or hearing related to the incident. This information is stated in the Student Social Code of Conduct see <https://arp.nmsu.edu/5-26/>. The accused and accuser receive a copy of these rights when they attend a meeting (separately) to discuss how the conduct process works.

Once the accused student is notified of the formal charges, an Educational Conference is set. This is a meeting where the rights of the students are reviewed, and both due process and charges are explained to the student. The student has the right to accept or deny responsibility at the Educational Conference. If the student accepts responsibility, the student and the victim are notified within five days of the acceptance of responsibility and what sanctions are given as a result of the action. If the student denies responsibility, the case goes to a hearing before a Hearing Officer. The Hearing Officer hears the case presented by the university, the student's statement regarding the incident, and witnesses. Within five days, the Hearing Officer notifies the student and victim (at essentially the same time and using the same method) of the decision of the case and what sanctions are given if the accused student is found responsible. The appeal process is included in the letter. If there is a change in the outcome of a case based on the appeal, both the accuser and the accused are again notified of the outcome. This is done in the same manner they were notified of the initial outcome, using the Maxient system to send the notices.

The University employs interim protection measures such as interim suspension and/or no contact orders in any case where a student's or employee's behavior represents a risk of violence, threat, pattern or predation. A student wishing to file an administrative report of such an incident to the university may do so by contacting the Title IX Coordinator at (575) 646-3635. The student may also report to NMSU Police or other law enforcement if they wish to pursue criminal charges. NMSU employees with knowledge about sexual misconduct or gender-based violence or the crimes of rape, sexual assault, sexual harassment, stalking, dating violence or domestic violence are encouraged to report it immediately.

For offenses including sexual misconduct or other gender based violence, which typically include the crimes of domestic violence, dating violence, sexual harassment, sexual misconduct and stalking, sanctions against student offenders range from warnings through expulsion. Serious and violent incidents and acts of sexual offenses by employees usually result in suspension, expulsion or termination of employment.

Procedurally, when New Mexico State University receives a report of sexual misconduct, gender-based violence, or other sex or gender discrimination the campus Title IX Coordinator is notified. If the victim wishes to access local community agencies and/or law enforcement for support, the University will assist the victim in making these contacts. The Title IX Coordinator will offer assistance to victims in the form of interim or long-term measures such as opportunities for academic accommodations, changes in housing for the victim or the responding student, visa and immigration assistance, changes in working situations and other assistance as may be appropriate and available on campus or in the community (such as no contact orders, campus escorts, transportation assistance, targeted interventions, etc.). If the victim so desires, they will be connected with a counselor on- or off-campus, as well as an on- or off-campus victim's advocate. No victim is required to take advantage of these services and resources, but the University provides them in the hopes of offering help and support without condition or qualification. A summary of rights, options, supports and procedures is provided to all victims, whether they are a student, employee, guest or visitor by the Title IX Coordinator (or designee).

When appropriate upon receipt of notice, the Title IX Coordinator will cause a prompt, fair and impartial process to be initiated, commencing with an investigation which may lead to the imposition of sanctions upon an individual found responsible, based upon a preponderance of evidence. (Preponderance of evidence means that the hearing officer believes it is more likely than not that the incident occurred. The preponderance of the evidence standard is first applied during the investigative process when the Office of Institutional Equity investigates the complaint.) Procedures detailing the investigation and resolution processes of the University can be found in the NMSU Administrative Rules and Procedures manual at Rule 3.25 (contained below). The coordinator is ultimately responsible to assure in all cases that the behavior is brought to an end, the University acts to reasonably prevent its recurrence and the effects on the victim and the community are remedied. The coordinator is also responsible to assure that training is conducted annually for all investigators, hearing officers, and appeals officers that encompasses a hearing process that protects the safety of victims and promotes accountability. Training will focus on sexual misconduct, domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, stalking, sexual harassment, retaliation and other behaviors that can be forms of sex or gender discrimination covered by Title IX and Clery Act. Training will help those decision-makers in the process to protect the safety of victims and to promote accountability for those who commit offenses.

In any complaint of sexual misconduct, sexual assault, stalking, dating violence, domestic violence or other sex or gender-based discrimination covered under the federal law, Title IX, the person bringing the accusation and the responding party are entitled to the same opportunities for a support person or advisor of their choice throughout the process, including any meeting, conference, hearing or other procedural action. Once complete, the parties will be informed, in writing, of the outcome, including the finding, the sanctions (if any). Delivery of this outcome will be issued to the parties, and will occur at the same time and utilizing the same method of delivery. All parties will be informed of the University's appeal processes, and their rights to exercise a request for appeal. Should any change in outcome occur prior to finalization, all parties will be timely informed in writing, and will be notified when the results of the resolution process become final.

NMSU POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

Below are summaries or excerpts of the NMSU Administrative Rules and Procedures related to discrimination, sexual misconduct, harassment, alcohol, drugs, and related topics. Some of these are in the process of being re-written, with new rules and procedures expected to be issued during the 2023-2024 school year. When the new rules and procedures are implemented, notification will be sent to the campus community. The complete and current NMSU Policies and Procedures and the Administrative Rules and Procedures can be found at <https://arp.nmsu.edu/>.

Reporting of crimes and emergencies

If a person wishes to report a crime for inclusion in this report, or to report an emergency on campus, they should do so by contacting the NMSU Police Department as soon as possible by dialing 911, calling 505-287-4404, or going to the Grants Police Department building at 105 Roosevelt Ave, Grants, NM 88020. As noted above, VAWA Crimes may also be reported to the Title IX Coordinator, and they will also be included in this report. NMSU has also identified a number of other individuals by position who are considered "campus security authorities" because of their roles and the tendency someone might have to report a crime to them, even though that is not what is encouraged. Because of the delay that may be caused when contacting someone who cannot issue a timely warning or emergency alert, if there is a life-threatening incident, please contact the Emergency Dispatch Center by calling 911 whenever possible.

The Campus Security Authorities at the NMSU Grants campus are:

- Campus Executive
- Vice President for Academics
- Vice President for Student Services
- Business Manager III

Training is offered in person and online for personnel filling the above positions to help ensure they understand their role and responsibilities in reporting crimes to the Grants Police Department or the NMSU Police Department. Personnel in the above roles cannot offer nor guarantee confidentiality as it relates to reporting of crimes, though efforts are often made to protect the safety and privacy of crime victims to the extent allowed by law.

The CSAs are encouraged to promptly and accurately report all crimes, even if they do not appear to be Clery-reportable crimes. This ensures that all crimes known and taking place on campus are reported. When a report is received from a campus security authority, the Grants Police Department or NMSU Police Department will generate a police report in order to ensure accurate tracking, and will evaluate whether an Emergency Alert or Timely Warning are appropriate for the incident. The resulting police report will likewise be entered into the Daily Crime Log. If the crime reported might also fall under the jurisdiction of the Title IX Coordinator, the Police Department or Vice President for Student Services at NMSU Grants will provide notice to that person, as well.

NMSU Rule 3.05 Alcohol at NMSU Including Sanctioned Events (also addresses illegal drugs)

This rule specifies when and where alcohol is allowed, and what events may involve the serving or consumption of alcohol. Alcohol is only allowed if its possession and use are consistent with local, state, and federal laws, and only if it does not interfere with the academic atmosphere of the university. Sales of alcohol are prohibited unless specifically approved by the university and conducted in accordance with state law, to include requirements for a dispenser license. NMSU explicitly prohibits the unlawful use, possession, sale, or distribution of alcohol, controlled substances (drugs), or drug paraphernalia by all students and employees. Violations of applicable local, state, or federal laws is considered a violation of the institution's policies. Underage possession or consumption of alcohol is also specifically prohibited. Students who violate the rules and procedures are referred for violation of the Student Code of Conduct, and frequently also face criminal charges (see arrests and disciplinary referrals later in this report). These also link to the Student Social Code of Conduct Part II, Section 5.a (Alcohol Use), Section 5.b (drugs), Section 5.c (prescription medications), and Section 5.h (Violations of Law). Employees found in violation are also subject to criminal charges, as well as being referred for human resources action. The full Rule can be found in the Administrative Rules and Procedures at <https://arp.nmsu.edu> (See also Drugs and Alcohol in Section 3, below)

Abuse Programs required under the Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act (DFSCA) (see also, Section IV – Crime Statistics, Drug Free Schools and Communities Act)

Students with a concern about their level of abuse can see professional staff to objectively assess the impact that their use has on their lives. This assessment is accomplished using inventories, online tools such as 3rd Millennium's Alcohol-Wise and Marijuana 100, and/or through the clinical interview. Motivational interviewing is utilized when working with students who are not ready to address or change their use of substances. One specific strategy for assessment and intervention is the BASICS (Brief Alcohol Screening in College Students) program.

The first time a student is found in violation of the alcohol rule, without other mitigating circumstances, the student is required to complete an education program, pay any relevant administrative fees and receives a written warning. The second time a student is found responsible for violating the alcohol rule, the student is required to complete BASICS, pay any relevant administrative fees, and receives a 16 week period of time on probation. NMSU Grants will work to provide similar level of services in our community.

Once an assessment is completed, staff assists the student to set appropriate goals with strategies to attain those goals. Other resources utilized are community Alcoholics Anonymous groups. If the assessment determines that the student needs additional services beyond what the Aggie Health and Wellness Center can provide, the student is referred to community outpatient or inpatient treatment programs.

The Aggie Health and Wellness Center provides students with support for their efforts to maintain sobriety. Many students have had treatment or have ended their use of harmful substances independently. Through group interventions, crisis services, and individual counseling, the Center helps students avoid relapse by assisting with stress management, self-regulation, and relationship or other issues (i.e., depression, anxiety) that may be contributing to relapse.

- b. Those with responsibility to report sexual misconduct to a supervisor and OIE; and/or
- c. Those who a student would responsibly believe have such authority or obligation.

- D. Campus Violence Elimination Act (Campus SaVE Act) Notice:
- NMSU does not tolerate any sexual violence to include intimate partner violence which can be defined as any physical, sexual, or psychological harm against an individual by a current or former partner or spouse of the individual. Such sexual violence covers domestic violence, dating violence and stalking. The Campus SaVE Act complements and is a companion to Title IX and assists with the response to and prevention of sexual violence in higher education. The Act provides a framework for educational institutions to address incidents of sexual violence occurring on-campus, on public property within and adjacent to campus, and at non-campus properties like off-campus student organization housing, campus sponsored events and remote classrooms.

Specifically, the Campus SaVE Act outlines provisions for the following:

- a. Transparency: Students or employees reporting victimization will be assisted by campus authorities in reporting a crime to law enforcement and with obtaining or enforcement of no contact directives or restraining orders. Employees and students should be aware of bystander intervention which includes taking action to prevent harm or intervene when there is a risk of domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, or stalking against another person. Individuals who make reports will be provided options and assistance in changing academic, living, transportation and working situations if requested and reasonably available. Further, a resource guide will be provided which includes information on counseling, health, local advocacy and legal service agencies. The range of any possible disciplinary actions or sanctions and procedures may be found in the NMSU Student Code of Conduct and/or the NMSU Policy Manual.
- b. Accountability: Provide a fair investigation and resolution of complaints. Additionally, both accuser and accused may be accompanied during proceedings by an advisor of their choice and both parties will receive written outcomes of disciplinary hearings at the same time.
- c. Education: Conduct initial and ongoing awareness programming for students and employees that addresses issues of primary prevention, definition of consent, reporting, bystander intervention and risk reduction.
- d. Inquiries concerning the application of the Campus SaVE Act may contact any of the following: Office of Institutional Equity (OIE) Executive Director; the NMSU Police Department Victim's Assistance Coordinator or the Dean of Students. The NMSU OIE website will include the most current names, office address, telephone number and e-mail address as well as the link to the Office for Civil Rights.

Retaliation in violation of this policy may result in discipline up to and including termination and/or expulsion. Any employee or student bringing a discrimination or sexual harassment complaint in good faith or assisting in the investigation of such a complaint will not be adversely affected in terms and conditions of employment and/or academic standing, nor discriminated against, terminated, or expelled because of the complaint.

I. Policy Statement Distribution:

The President's policy statement references the University's position as contained in this policy.

All employees will be provided the President's policy statement on an annual basis. Human Resource Services (HRS) and the Office of Institutional Equity (OIE) will maintain documentation (written or electronic) that each employee received the President's policy statement. New employees will be provided a copy of the President's policy statement at the time of hire, generally at New Employee Orientation (NEO) and documentation will be maintained by HRS. Additionally, the President's policy statement will be provided to students at least annually. The distribution and receipt documentation may be accomplished electronically for either employees or students. The complete text of this policy will be maintained on the OIE website: <http://equity.nmsu.edu/>

J. Complaints and Investigation:

1. Employees and students may file an internal discrimination complaint with OIE within fifteen (15) working days from the date of the incident(s). Individuals may use the NMSU Internal Discrimination Complaint Form to submit their complaint. The use of this form facilitates the gathering of information that is necessary to assess the complaint. The OIE Executive Director (or designee) may extend the filing date of a complaint beyond the fifteen (15) working days if there are extenuating circumstances.
2. OIE will provide the option to the complainant of pursuing their complaint through an informal (which may include mediation) or formal process (submittal of the complaint). The formal internal discrimination complaint will be subject to an initial review to determine if the complaint will proceed to the investigation. If the initial review finds that the complaint will not be accepted for investigation, the OIE Executive Director (or designee) will inform the complainant in writing of the decision. The complainant may appeal the decision in writing to the Executive Vice President and Provost (or designee) within five (5) working days of receipt of the notification letter.
3. If the internal discrimination complaint is accepted, the accused individual(s) will be provided a copy of the complaint and will be extended five (5) working days to provide a written response to OIE. OIE shall initiate the process to investigate the complaint. This process includes interviewing the complainant, respondent, potential witnesses and the gathering of any related documents.
4. All individuals are required to cooperate with any investigation in response to allegations of discrimination. Refusal to cooperate in an investigation may result in disciplinary action in accordance with university policy or student code of conduct. The completion of the investigation will be within sixty (60) days of initiation unless there are extenuating circumstances. A report of inquiry will be generated by the investigator and forwarded to the Executive Vice President and Provost. Within fifteen (15) days of receipt, the Executive Vice President and Provost (or designee) will review the report and render a decision in writing to the OIE Executive Director. The standard of evidence used for internal discrimination investigations is the "preponderance of the evidence". Preponderance of the evidence means the greater weight of the evidence. The OIE Executive Director (or designee) will transmit the Executive Vice President and Provost's (or designee) decision in writing to the complainant, the accused and appropriate administrators. The completion of the decision transmittal exhausts the internal process available under this policy for employees, students and others or may file complaints.
5. Penalties: Cases for students who are found to have violated the NMSU Student Code of Conduct and/or NMSU Policy Manual will be referred to Assistant Dean of Students. Cases for employees who are found to have violated NMSU Policy Manual will be referred to Human Resource Services/Employee and Management Services. Sanctions for students may include action up to and including expulsion. Sanctions for employees may include employment action up to and including termination in accordance with provisions of the NMSU Policy Manual.

 - b. Refraining from participation in, or encouragement of actions that could be perceived as discrimination or harassment (verbal or otherwise);
 - c. Stopping any observed acts that may be considered discrimination or harassment, and taking appropriate steps to intervene, whether or not the involved individuals are within their line of supervision; and
 - d. Taking immediate action to minimize or eliminate the work and/or school contact among individuals where there has been a complaint of sexual harassment, pending the completion of the investigation.

If a supervisor (or faculty in academic setting) receives a complaint of alleged discrimination or sexual harassment, or observes or becomes aware of conduct that may constitute discrimination or sexual harassment, the supervisor (or faculty in academic setting) must immediately contact OIE. Failure to take the above action to prevent the occurrence of or stop known discrimination or harassment may be grounds for disciplinary action in accordance with provisions of the NMSU Policy Manual.

O. Relationship to Freedom of Expression:

NMSU is committed to the principles of free inquiry and free expression. Vigorous discussion and debate are fundamental rights and this policy is not intended to stifle teaching methods or freedom of expression. Discrimination or sexual harassment, however, is neither legally protected expression nor the proper exercise of academic freedom; it compromises the integrity of this institution, the tradition of intellectual freedom and the trust placed in the institution by its members.

NOTIFICATION OF FINAL RESULTS

When a complaint has been filed with the university, NMSU will, upon written request, disclose to the alleged victim of a crime of violence or a non-forcible sex offense, the report on the results of any disciplinary proceeding conducted by the institution against a student who is the alleged perpetrator of such crime or offense. If the alleged victim is deceased, the next of kin of such victim shall be treated as the alleged victim for purposes of this paragraph.

Additional Information On Sexual Assaults, Sexual Violence, and Sexual Misconduct

The Office of Institutional Equity (OIE) has compiled a package of all resources, including for community college locations, along with a tri-fold publication that is provided to students. A copy of these is available through the OIE. In addition, the OIE has implemented a 90-day follow up procedure of following up with victims of sexual violence and sexual misconduct for those victims who initially elected not to file internal complaints.

SEX OFFENDERS

In accordance to the Campus Sex Crimes Prevention Act of 2000 and the Adam Walsh Child Protection and Safety Act of 2006 (42 U.S.C. 16921), the university is providing a link to the State of New Mexico Sex Offender Registry. All sex offenders are required to register in the state of New Mexico and to provide notice of each institution of higher education in New Mexico at which the person is employed, carries a vocation or is a student, even if the student is taking classes online and is not physically present in the state. The registry is maintained by the State of New Mexico can be found at <http://www.nmsexoffender.dps.state.nm.us>. In addition to other legal requirements, any convicted sex offender who is a student or employee of NMSU is required to register with the NMSU Police Department, as well as make notification to either the Registrar's Office (if a student) or the department head of their employing department (if an employee), or both (if both a student and an employee). They also must report any changes in their status, such as changing from student to employee, employee to student, or termination of employment. As of September 28, 2023, no known sex offenders lived on the NMSU campus based on a search of this database.

In addition to the above notice to the State of New Mexico, all sex offenders are required to deliver written notice of their status as a sex offender to the NMSU Police Department no later than three (3) business days prior to their enrollment in, employment with, volunteering at or residence in the University. Such notification may be disseminated by the University to, and for the safety and well-being of, the University community, and may be considered by the University for enrollment and discipline purposes.

SECTION 3 – SAFETY AND SECURITY PROGRAMS

SAFETY CLASSES AND WORKSHOPS

The primary functions of the NMSU Police Department are law enforcement, criminal investigation, and emergency response. Integral to these are the crime prevention and public education classes and workshops the officers and crime prevention specialists teach on campus each year to help reduce the likelihood of crimes. These classes include:

- Personal Self Defense and Fight Like A Girl: learn and practice techniques that can help stop an attack in these programs
- Pepper Spray: learn to use pepper sprays for self defense
- Active Shooter/Killer Response: learn what to do if caught in an active shooter/killer incident
- Traffic Safety Issues: refresh on the rules of the road and how to avoid problems
- Rape Awareness & Prevention: learn about stranger, date, and acquaintance rape, and some ways to avoid situations common to rapes
- Alcohol & Drug Awareness: learn the effects of alcohol and drugs on the body, and the dangers they can pose
- Dealing with Difficult People and Violence in the Workplace: learn about the causes of workplace violence and how to reduce its likelihood
- Emergency Preparedness and Community Emergency Response Team (CERT): learn how to prepare for emergencies, help yourself, and help others
- First Aid & CPR: learn how to treat medical emergencies until help arrives
- RAD Kids: a safety program for young children

Programs are scheduled at the request of any on-campus (and some off-campus) groups or organizations. The NMSU Police Department also teaches segments of academic courses at the request of instructors and faculty. Courses are tailored for each audience, and range in length from 15 minutes to 8 hours. Further information, including a list of currently scheduled courses, how to request a course, descriptions of the courses, or discussion of specific needs is available by contacting the NMSU Police Department at 575-646-3311. Additional information regarding safety can also be found at www.nmsupolice.com and safety.nmsu.edu, as well as by following the NMSU Police Department Facebook and Twitter accounts (<http://facebook.com/nmsupolice> and <http://twitter.com/nmsupolice>).

NEW STUDENT PROGRAMS

Student Services' Office presents to each new student orientation (first-year, transfers, re-admits) regarding the Student Social Code of Conduct; definitions of dating violence, domestic violence, sexual assault, stalking and consent; rights of the victim; where a victim can report on campus providing an explanation of reporting offices and offices which hold confidentiality; steps to take in case of a crime of violence; and bystander behavior.

For students who do not attend a face-to-face orientation, they must complete an on-line orientation, which includes the myNMSU Respects Campus SaVe Act. A component of the on-line orientation is information related to defining dating violence, domestic violence, sexual assault, stalking and consent; rights of the victim; where a victim can report on campus providing an explanation of reporting offices and offices which hold confidentiality; steps to take in case of a crime of violence; and bystander behavior.

WELLNESS, ALCOHOL, VIOLENCE, EDUCATION (WAVE) PROGRAM

WAVE is a harm-reduction program that has run at NMSU Las Cruces for a number of years. It involves peer educators in outreach efforts targeting students. At each presentation, WAVE provides materials regarding on and off-campus resources to participants. In addition to the efforts aimed at first-year students listed above, WAVE educators also present the following annual programs:

- 1) RAINN Day - an annual day of action to raise awareness and educate students about sexual violence on college campuses. It is a grassroots program designed to empower college students to educate their peers about risk reduction and recovery resources on their campus. Students are encouraged to paint a t-shirt about sexual assault prevention; the t-shirts are put up on a clothesline, and the following day students are encouraged to vote for their favorite t-shirt, thus enabling students to read each and every message that other students created on their t-shirts the day before. The creators of the top two t-shirts win a prize and we typically take pictures to be featured in the Roundup along with an article about sexual assault.
- 2) Aggies Against Violence Week – This has been an annual event for the past three years.
- 3) Take Back The Night – NMSU has been participating in the annual TBTN for over 10 years and last year 75 students participated.

FACILITIES STAFF AND KEY CONTROL PROGRAMS

Employees of Facilities and Services are responsible for a variety of services performed on and around the Grants campus, including facility cleaning, maintenance, and access control. Upon employment, these employees submit to a background check, receive a uniform distinguishing them as Facilities and Service employees, and are issued keys granting limited access to the exterior door, equipment rooms, and custodial closets. Custodians may access master keys through a lockbox sign-in and sign-out process. An employee entering a requester-controlled area obtains access through the work requestor, with both parties verifying security upon completion.

All new keys for university buildings are issued directly through the Access Control shop to insure key records are controlled by a central location. Keys authorized by the responsible department head or other authorized person are only issued to a valid NMSU student or staff member. Use and security of keys are the responsibility of the recipient. Upon severing ties with the university, keys must return to Facilities and Services. Distribution of master keys require the approval of the Facilities Service Manager prior to release.

HAZING PREVENTION AND AWARENESS PROGRAMS AND INITIATIVES

NMSU Hazing Prevention and Awareness Programs statement:

“At New Mexico State University, our Hazing Prevention Consortium is a dynamic coalition of staff working together to build a campus environment where every student feels safe, respected, and free from the dangers of hazing. Our approach is comprehensive and rooted in the latest insights from the Hazing Prevention Framework™, ensuring that our initiatives are both effective and evidence-based.

Through education, outreach, and collaboration, we focus on prevention first — making sure students, faculty, and staff know what hazing looks like, how to stop it, and how to support one another. Our goal is simple but powerful: create a campus culture where hazing has no place.”

NMSU System wide initiatives that have or are being developed to address Hazing;

- The NMSU Hazing Prevention Consortium is exploring stop hazing resources for online educational training programs for all new students (e.g. first-year, transfers, and graduate students) which will be rolled out for the Fall 2026 semester.

- A pilot program, the StopHazing online learning module is presented to all students.
- Title IX and Hazing via Vector Solutions' online training platform is available to all students.
- An interactive campus wide initiative during Hazing Prevention Week (Sept. 22-26) was conducted.

Fraternity and Sorority Members;

- Hazing, sexual assault prevention, and bystander intervention are addressed in the Greek 101 program.
- Panhellenic councils will host hazing prevention speakers every semester to Greek Life leadership.
- Student groups will be asked to submit semesterly reports demonstrating alignment with their organizations' chapter mission, vision, and values and engagement in approved non-hazing team-building alternatives.

High-Risk Groups (Band, Cheer, Club Sports);

- Intentional hazing programming will be directed to groups and organizations historically identified with hazing behavior.
- New "10 Signs of Healthy Groups" bystander-focused training is offered.

Residential Life and Cultural Groups;

- Hazing Prevention programming is delivered to all student housing staff.
- Diversity Program units and other affinity groups receive hazing prevention programming.

"Aggies Stand Up, Speak Up, Step Up" campaign and training support strategy is being created to ensure accessibility and compliance throughout the entire NMSU System.

NMSU researched-informed and campus-wide hazing prevention and awareness programs for students, staff and faculty include information on how to report incidents of hazing, bullying, harassment and other hostile misconduct, as well as the process used to investigate such reports in accordance with NMSU ARP 3.80.

BYSTANDER INTERVENTION EDUCATION & TRAINING

NMSU encourages students and employees to be responsible for their own safety and security, as well as the safety and security of others. One way they may be able to help others is through what is called "bystander intervention". The NMSU Office of Health Promotion provides education and an example is found on their webpage at: <https://ohp.nmsu.edu/violence-prevention/bystander-intervention.html>

COUNSELING SERVICES

Cibola County Resources can be found on the Resource Brochure:

<https://equity.nmsu.edu/home/OIE-Support-and-Resource-Guide-Revised-7-2023.pdf>

OTHER SAFETY AND SECURITY PROGRAMS

Facilities and Services also works to help maintain safety of the campus by, among other efforts, replacing burned out lights, trimming vegetation that blocks lights, and conducting annual tours of the campus to develop a prioritized list of projects for improvements. The employees who work for Facilities and Services also serve as additional observers and reporters of problems around the campus.

TIPS TO PREVENT CRIME

The following are some things each person can do to reduce chances of becoming a victim of a crime:

- Mark or engrave all valuables (including textbooks), and keep a record of these in a safe place. Include their make, model, and serial numbers whenever possible. A good way to do this is by taking photographs of the items and the serial numbers and storing them both on your cell phone and in the cloud so they can be easily retrieved if needed.
- If there are problems with your room that may affect security (such as doors that don't lock well or windows that open easily), let your RA or property manager know immediately.
- Always secure bikes to a bike rack using a high-quality lock.
- Lock the doors and windows to your room and your vehicle every time you leave. Do not leave valuables where they can be easily seen by someone passing by, even if it is just for a few minutes.
- Always be aware of your surroundings and of any strangers near you. If you are going to be involved in activities where you are unable to focus on your environment and what is going on around you (e.g., when playing games on a smart phone), do so with friends so you can help each other watch for dangerous situations. If someone is acting suspiciously near you, move away toward large groups and well-lit areas. If the person follows you and/or continues to act in a suspicious manner, consider challenging them or call 911 for assistance.
- Don't leave valuables unattended in unlocked lockers, study areas, or classrooms.
- Alcohol and drug use can reduce your ability to recognize a dangerous situation and your ability to defend yourself. If you are going to drink alcohol, do it legally, responsibly, in a safe place, and with people you can trust.

In addition to the tips above, additional information can be found on the NMSU Police Department website (www.nmsupolice.com), or by contacting the Crime Prevention Office at 646-3311.

DRUGS AND ALCOHOL

(See also the Policies and Procedures in Section 2, above)

Use of alcohol is a concern with many high school and college students. While the average age of students attending NMSU is 26 years old, there are still a large percentage of students and visitors below the age of 21 (the minimum age for consumption of alcohol in New Mexico). Alcohol is strictly prohibited for those below 21, and abuse of alcohol by anyone (to include use in unauthorized areas) is prohibited. The Grants Police Department and NMSU Police Department does arrest and/or cite for these offenses. Anyone selling or giving alcohol to a minor is guilty of a 4th degree felony in New Mexico. The Office of Institutional Equity will also charge students who violate university policies and state laws, with penalties ranging from mandatory education programs, up to and including expulsion from NMSU.

In addition to alcohol, illegal drug abuse (to include prescription drug abuse) is a concern on college campuses. Possession, sale, or use of any prohibited substance may result in criminal charges and administrative sanctions, up to and including expulsion from NMSU. Violations of federal and state controlled substance laws are investigated by the NMSU Police Department and referred for prosecution.

OTHER SERVICES AVAILABLE

NMSU Grants students may access the Resource Guide for services in Cibola County through the Vice President for Student Services or online: <https://equity.nmsu.edu/home/OIE-Support-and-Resource-Guide-Revised-7-2023.pdf>

Additional services exist throughout the community to deal with special problems. Students may contact the Vice President for Student Services at NMSU Grants or the NMSU Police Department with their needs for referral to the appropriate people or organizations.

SECTION 4 – CRIME STATISTICS

DRUG FREE SCHOOLS AND COMMUNITIES

The NMSU Board of Regents, the NMSU administration, and the NMSU Police Department strongly discourage any conduct that is illegal or that violates the rights of another individual. This specifically includes laws concerning possession, use, and sale of alcohol and illegal drugs. NMSU may take both administrative (student judicial and/or personnel) and criminal action against individuals and organizations found to be violating federal, state or university laws or policies regarding alcohol or drugs. Various drug or alcohol abuse education programs are sponsored by NMSU's Police Department, the Vice President for Student Affairs Office, the WAVE program, and the Human Resources Office. The NMSU Police Department makes every effort to assist victims of crimes through the Police Department's Victim Services Office and to prosecute those responsible. Detailed information related to alcohol and drugs, including compliance with the Drug Free Schools and Communities Act, can be found at the following sites:

MONITORING OF CRIMINAL ACTIVITY AT STUDENT ORGANIZATION LOCATIONS

The NMSU Grants does not have off-campus student organization facilities. However, it does obtain crime statistics for this report from the local police agencies having jurisdiction over property owned or controlled by chartered student organizations. Crimes identified in this process will be included in the "non-campus property" column below.

ABOUT THE CRIME STATISTICS

The Grants Police Department and NMSU Police Department is responsible for the investigation of all crimes that take place on university premises, which includes the filing of appropriate police reports and filing of annual reports and statistics.

Reports may be "unfounded" if the person who filed the report makes a written statement acknowledging that the initial report was fictitious, or if a court convicts the person for filing a false report. In all other circumstances, a report will still be included on crime statistics regardless of the result of hearings or trials.

Statistics on the following crimes and offenses are reported in the annual security report. The definitions are from the indicated sources, and may differ from the actual charges filed under state law due to differences between the federal definitions and state statutes. Commonly used state statutes relating to some of these areas are contained later in this publication.

DEFINITIONS OF CLERY ACT LOCATIONS (General)

“On-Campus” is defined as any building or property owned or controlled by an institution within the same reasonably contiguous geographic area and used by the institution in direct support of, or in a manner related to, the institution’s educational purposes, including residence halls. This also includes any building or property that is within or reasonably contiguous to the geographic area that is owned by the institution but controlled by another person, is frequently used by students, and supports institutional purposes (such as a food or other retail vendor).

“Dorms/Residential Facilities” for students on campus is a subset of the “On-Campus” category.

* Crimes reported in the Residential Facilities column are also included in the On-Campus Category.

“Non-Campus” is defined as any building or property owned or controlled by an institution that is used in direct support of, or in relation to, the institution’s educational purposes, is frequently used by students, and is not within the same reasonably contiguous geographic area of the institution. This also includes any building or property owned or controlled by a student organization that is officially recognized by the institution. The Santa Fe facility is considered in this category.

“Public Property” is defined as all public property, including thoroughfares, streets, sidewalks, and parking facilities, that is within the campus, or immediately adjacent to and accessible from the campus.

As a result, there are no cases of 'dating violence' listed individually.

DAILY CRIME LOG/BLOTTER AND INCIDENT REPORTS

Individual police reports are available for inspection and/or purchase pursuant to the requirements of the New Mexico Inspection of Public Records Act at the Grants City Hall. Reports that are inspected should not be considered official police reports for purposes of insurance or prosecution. The Cibola Citizen paper keeps a Public Safety Crime log for the weekly paper. The Vice President for Student Services keeps a Crime Log for crimes on campus.

VICTIM CONFIDENTIALITY

Victim information is not contained in the Daily Crime Log. There is also never any victim information contained in the Annual Security Report.

Within individual police reports, victim information is recorded. Under the New Mexico Inspection of Public Records Act, police reports are considered public records subject to inspection and copying. However, the university Police Department will withhold a victim's personally identifying information from the public for the following crimes:

- Murder
- Voluntary Manslaughter

- Involuntary Manslaughter
- Homicide by Vehicle
- Kidnapping
- Criminal Sexual Penetration
- Criminal Sexual Contact of a Minor
- Abandonment or Abuse of a Child
- Arson Resulting in Bodily Injury
- Aggravated Arson
- Aggravated Assault
- Aggravated Battery
- Great Bodily Injury by Vehicle
- Dangerous Use of Explosives
- Negligent Use of a Deadly Weapon

If a question arises as to whether victim information should be disclosed pursuant to an Inspection of Public Records request, the determination of whether or not to release it will be made by the Chief of Police in consultation with the Office of the General Counsel. (NOTE: Victim information may be released to non-public entities, to include other law enforcement agencies, victim services, prosecutors, the courts, and university officials. In such cases, if the Chief of Police (or designee) indicates the information is confidential, the receiving is asked to not provide it to others without specific authorization.)

When assisting a victim with accommodations or protective measures, the university does not share personally identifying information with anyone who does not have a “need to know”. Those who are identified as having a need to know are those who are responsible for instituting the accommodations or measures, such as changing a class schedule or room assignment. The Victim Services personnel from the Police Department who assist in these accommodations keep the victim informed at all stages, and obtain affirmative consent from the victim before taking action to see or implement accommodations or protective measures. The Police Department believes it is crucial to allow the victim to decide what happens to avoid causing further trauma.

OFF-CAMPUS CRIME

Crime occurring off campus involving students or chartered NMSU organizations is reported to and handled by a variety of agencies, including the Grants Police Department, the Cibola County Sheriff’s Department, or other local, state, or federal law enforcement agencies having jurisdiction. While Grants Police Department assists other agencies when asked pursuant to mutual aid agreements, the reporting and tracking of crime is done by the agency of primary jurisdiction. The university does not routinely monitor nor track incidents that are on private property nor public property not owned by NMSU. Anyone wanting specific information on off-campus crime should contact the appropriate agency(s). See the Phone Number Reference Guide on the last page of this report for contact information.

WE NEED YOUR HELP – REPORT CRIME!

Please help us in deterring crime on our campus by promptly calling the Grants Police Department at 505-287-4404 or 911 (in case of emergencies) to report suspicious activity, safety problems, or crimes. In accordance with state law, the Grants Police Department cannot accept anonymous reports, and must disclose certain information to prosecutors and defense counsel. However, it will take steps in sensitive cases to keep personal information confidential to the extent possible. This includes cases of sexual assault, as well as cases where there is a concern of possible retaliation. The NMSU Police Department also encourages 3rd party reports from non-NMSU counselors, pastors, and other mental health practitioners. Victims or witnesses of a crime desiring to remain anonymous but who want to ensure the crime is included in the annual crime statistics may submit an e-mail to police@nmsu.edu and may use an anonymous e-mail address (such as an account on Hotmail), or he/she may submit it through Ethicspoint (<https://secure.ethicspoint.com/>). In such cases, the reporting person should include the date, time, and location of the incident, a detailed description of what took place, and any identification information on the suspect that might be known. The person at NMSU who receives the report may need to ask the reporter for additional information in order to properly classify the crime or help protect others from a similar occurrence. Thus, the reporter is asked to check the anonymous e-mail account or EthicsPoint account for at least a couple of weeks to check for correspondence.

RESPONSIBILITY FOR POLICY MONITORING AND ENFORCEMENT

The university has assigned responsibility for monitoring the above policies to the Police Department. If violations of policy are found to have occurred, the violations are referred to the President's Office for enforcement.

LEGAL DEFINITIONS

Rape is defined by the FBI as the penetration (no matter how slight) of the vagina or anus with any body part or object, or oral penetration by a sex organ of another person, without the consent of a victim. It includes situations where the victim is incapable of giving consent due to incapacitation by means of disability or alcohol or other drugs. In New Mexico, the term "rape" is not used in statute. Instead, the term is "criminal sexual penetration". New Mexico also does not specifically define consent during a sexual assault, but clearly indicates that any amount of force or coercion means it was not consensual, and that a person who is incapacitated by alcohol or drugs or who is too young cannot give consent. Many rapes are committed by someone the victim knows, such as a date or friend. Under New Mexico State Law, criminal sexual penetration is defined as follows:

30-9-11. Criminal sexual penetration.

- A. Criminal sexual penetration is the unlawful and intentional causing of a person to engage in sexual intercourse, cunnilingus, fellatio or anal intercourse or the causing of penetration, to any extent and with any object, of the genital or anal openings of another, whether or not there is any emission.
- B. Criminal sexual penetration does not include medically indicated procedures.
- C. Aggravated criminal sexual penetration consists of all criminal sexual penetration perpetrated on a child under thirteen years of age with an intent to kill or with a depraved mind regardless of human life. Whoever commits aggravated criminal sexual penetration is guilty of a first-degree felony for aggravated criminal sexual penetration.
- D. Criminal sexual penetration in the first degree consists of all criminal sexual penetration perpetrated:
 - (1) on a child under thirteen years of age; or
 - (2) by the use of force or coercion that results in great bodily harm or great mental anguish to the victim.

Whoever commits criminal sexual penetration in the first degree is guilty of a first-degree felony.

- E. Criminal sexual penetration in the second degree consists of all criminal sexual penetration perpetrated:
- (1) by the use of force or coercion on a child thirteen to eighteen years of age;
 - (2) on an inmate confined in a correctional facility or jail when the perpetrator is in a position of authority over the inmate;
 - (3) by the use of force or coercion that results in personal injury to the victim;
 - (4) by the use of force or coercion when the perpetrator is aided or abetted by one or more persons;
 - (5) in the commission of any other felony; or
 - (6) when the perpetrator is armed with a deadly weapon.

Whoever commits criminal sexual penetration in the second degree is guilty of a second-degree felony. Whoever commits criminal sexual penetration in the second degree when the victim is a child who is thirteen to eighteen years of age is guilty of a second-degree felony for a sexual offense against a child and, notwithstanding the provisions of Section 31-18-15 NMSA 1978, shall be sentenced to a minimum term of imprisonment of three years, which shall not be suspended or deferred. The imposition of a minimum, mandatory term of imprisonment pursuant to the provisions of this subsection shall not be interpreted to preclude the imposition of sentencing enhancements pursuant to the provisions of the Criminal Sentencing Act [31-18-12 NMSA 1978].

- F. Criminal sexual penetration in the third degree consists of all criminal sexual penetration perpetrated through the use of force or coercion not otherwise specified in this section. Whoever commits criminal sexual penetration in the third degree is guilty of a third-degree felony.

- G. Criminal sexual penetration in the fourth degree consists of all criminal sexual penetration:
